Teacher Notes

Objective

Students will be able to identify and name basic feelings and emotions in English and Spanish. They will use simple sentences to express how they feel.

Suggested Use

Introduce vocabulary using flashcards or realia (emojis, facial expressions in a mirror). Read the mini-book aloud, pausing to discuss each feeling. Complete the worksheets as follow-up activities. Encourage students to express their feelings daily in English and Spanish during morning circle time or check-ins.

Materials Needed

Printed vocabulary cards (from image prompts)
Crayons, markers, or colored pencils
Scissors (for optional cut-and-glue matching)
Glue sticks
A mirror (for practicing facial expressions)

Differentiation Tips

Support: Provide sentence frames ('I feel _____', 'Me siento _____'). Use gesture and total physical response (TPR) to act out feelings. Pair students with a strong L1 speaker or an English-speaking buddy. Use real-life scenarios to discuss feelings.
Challenge: Ask students to describe why they feel a certain way. Encourage them to use feeling words in longer sentences or to write a short story about a character's feelings. Have them create their own feeling faces or scenarios.
