Teacher Notes

Objective

Students will be able to use academic language frames to discuss research processes, source evaluation, and citation practices in English.

Suggested Use

Introduce frames one by one, modeling pronunciation and usage. Practice in pairs or small groups through structured dialogues. Use speaking prompts for whole-class discussion or individual assessment. Worksheets can be used for independent practice or homework. Encourage students to keep a 'Research & Citation' vocabulary journal.

Materials Needed

- Whiteboard or projector
- Markers/pens
- Copies of sentence frames, dialogue strips, speaking prompts, and worksheets
- Index cards or small whiteboards for quick responses
- Access to computers/internet for example research (optional)

Differentiation Tips

For beginning ELLs: Provide sentence starters or word banks for blanks. Allow students to use L1 for initial brainstorming. Pair with a more proficient English speaker.
For intermediate ELLs: Encourage elaboration on responses. Ask 'why' and 'how' questions. Challenge them to use multiple frames in one response.
For advanced ELLs: Have them create their own dialogue strips or speaking prompts. Encourage debate or critical analysis using the frames.
