Teacher Notes

Objective

Students will use sentence frames to plan, write, and respond to writing prompts, enhancing their ability to communicate ideas in written and spoken English.

Suggested Use

Introduce frames one by one. Model usage with examples relevant to the students' lives. Practice in pairs or small groups during pre-writing, drafting, and peer review stages. Integrate these frames with existing writing curriculum to support ELL students in various writing tasks.

Materials Needed

- Whiteboard/projector
- Markers
- Sentence frame printouts
- Writing paper
- Pencils
- Colored pencils for visual cues
- Peer review checklists (optional)

Differentiation Tips

Support: Provide word banks for fill-in-the-blank activities. Pre-teach key vocabulary before writing tasks. Allow students to draw their ideas before writing. Pair newcomer students with stronger English speakers for peer activities.

Challenge: Encourage students to extend the frames with more complex ideas or additional clauses. Ask them to create their own sentence frames for different stages of the writing process. Have them lead peer review discussions using the frames.
